How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.
As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

PIANOS.
GAINED FIRST PREMIUM FOR GREATEST merit at the New Orleans Cotton Centennial and WORLE'S Exposition for refined and wonderful power of tone, elegance of design, and superb finish. Only piano endorsed by United States commissioners, from each of the States. Cases finest carved, rosewood finish—finest imported double repeating action—three strings throughout of best patent steel wire—keys best ivory. Our new patent steel tuning device, instead of wood, is the greatest invention ever made in pianos. It consists of stationary STEEL tuning pins that are set in a mold and molten STEEL is run round the pins keeping them solidly in place. A thimble or shell pin is made to exactly fit the stationary pin revolving therein; thus the strings wind round the pins. After the strings are properly stretched the piano can never get out of tune, the rest plank being of STEEL not affected by extremes of climate. This will be appreciated by all musicians in city or country. It will stand twenty years without tuning and is good for 100. No other piano has this improvement.

Great strength and durability is another advantage. In other pianos holes are bored in wooden boards and tuning pins inserted. The pins turn round in this board and cannot stand permanently in tune, and it often cracks, splits, dries out, becoming utterly, totally and entirely worthless as a musical instrument. Our STEEL tuning device is in no way affected by such casualities, and the sounding board is so constructed that our pianos can never become thin or metallic in tone. They are always in tune and the expense of tunning is saved. This patent alone is worth millions and makes our piano the greatest in the world. Prices are no higher than other pianos. Buying direct from us, the largest manufacturers, you save $100 or $200—dealers' profits. Don't mind the ominous growlings of dealers and agents, who see their chances of selling a poor piano at a big profit of $300—slipping away—pity them.

We guarantee our pianos ten years. 200 styles. We have put our prices at lowest bed-rock for Cash.

A $600 Piano for $259.50; a $900 Piano for $297.50; a $1200 Piano for $375.50; a $1500 Piano for $476.50.

Upright Cabinet Grands, with stool and rubber cover shipped on board cars at S. F., to any part of the United States, Canada or Mexico. Our terms are cash with order. If not as represented money returned. We occasionally have good second-hand pianos, made over at $100 to $300, which we take in part payment for our own. Write or call for catalogue, free.

FACTS ABOUT DATES.

Something About the Discovery of Sex in Plants and Its Importance.

In its wild and native state the date palm forms a tall and gracious tree of stately aspect, inferior in beauty, it is true, to the cocoanut, and still more to the mountain cabbage palm, but, with the usual high and slender stem of all its class, surmounted at the top by a tuft or rosette of spreading feathery pinnate leaves, deep green in hue, and from nine to twelve feet long in well grown specimens. There are some very fine ones, well known to most European tourists, in the gardens and courtyards of Algiers and Oran. In height they sometimes reach as much as eighty feet near running water; and as they live and bear seed for 200 years, the follower of the prophet who plants a date palm may indeed be regarded as laboring for posterity. The trees begin to bear fruit at seven years old, produce abundantly at twenty, and go on supplying his children's children far on into a second century.

The most interesting item about the date palm, however, is the fact that it was the first species in which the distinction of sex in plants was over noticed. As long ago as the days of Herodotus, and doubtless dozens of centuries earlier, the Egyptians and Babylonians knew that the dates could only be fully set by hanging the clusters of male flowers where their pollen could fall upon the female blossoms and impregnate the ovaries. As usual, this bit of abstract knowledge was earliest acquired where it brought itself to bear upon the universal subject of human sympathy, the question of dinner. Your countryman who knows all other fungi merely in the lump by the common name of toadstools can discriminate as accurately as a trained fungologist the edible mushroom from all inferior species. Your epicure with the vaguest views as to slugs and snails can safely be trusted, not only to identify that familiar bivalve, Ostrea edulis, but even to distinguish between such minor varieties as the Portuguese and the Whitstable native, the Blue Point and the genuine Saddle Rock. And so, too, the distinction of male and female in the date palm forced itself violently upon the attention of hungry humanity ages before Linnæus had demonstrated the functions of pollen or the arrangements of sexes in the rose and the buttercup.

Most plants, as all the world now knows, have the stamens, which produce the pollen, and the pistil, which contains the embryonic seeds, inclosed in one and the same blossom, though even in such cases provision is usually made for cross fertilization by the agency of insects, either because the stamens and pistils do not both mature simultaneously, or because the pollen is so arranged as never to fall naturally upon the sensitive stigma of the unripe capsule. But in a few plants—as, for example, in the common begonia and in box and pellitory—the male and female flowers are quite distinct, though both grow upon the same stem; and in yet others, like the red campion, the hop, and the hautboy strawberry, one plant will produce nothing but barren or stamen bearing flowers, while another will produce only fertile or fruit bearing blossoms. In this last case, to which category the date palm belongs, the sexes are strictly and absolutely separated. Each individual plant of the sort may properly be regarded as a huge phalanstery or community of male or female flowers, for which the bee or other insect acts as a go between.

Now, every separate date palm is thus either a pollen bearer or a fruit producer, and as it is impossible to tell beforehand whether any particular seed will bring forth a male or female plant, the Arabs, who wish, of course, for fertile palms only, do not usually propagate from seed at all, but prefer to raise their young stock by slips or suckers, taken from the foot of a female tree. During the flowering season they cut off the branches or spikes of blossom from the wild pollen bearing palms or from a few cultivated ones grown for that special purpose, and hang them by the side of the fruit bearing flowers in their own gardens. The bees and other insects then rapidly and effectually set the fruit by unconsciously carrying the pollen about on their bodies as they hunt for honey in the adjacent bunches. The account given of this process by Herodotus is just as full and just as correct in principle as any that could be given by a modern botanist. The male flowers grow, as a rule, somewhat larger than the female, but both are built on the usual palm model, which is, in fact, merely that of the ordinary lines a little diverted. Each has six petals, not very brightly colored, but pale yellowish green in hue, inclosing either six stamens or else a three celled ovary, of which two cells have become abortive. The palms, indeed, are arborescent lilies on a large scale; and such tropical species as the yuccas and the draccenas on the other hand, with the sub-tropical palmettos and fan palms on the other, help in part to bridge over the gulf between the two orders. In other words, under the exceptional conditions of tropical life, certain luxuriant lily like forms assume the shape and stature of trees, and those trees are what we call palms, marked still by the original lily blossoms and by the peculiar tufted character of their leaves.—Cornhill Magazine.

Foreign Ministers at Washington.

Foreign ministers demand the most scrupulous observance of the stereotyped rules of etiquette, and watch with scrutiny every attention and inattention to them. A failure to send a member of the corps or his wife in the precise seat belonging to his or her rank at the table would, probably, destroy the pleasure of the occasion. Not one inch further from the host or hostess than belonged to the country they represent would be tolerated. The placing of the diplomats in line to be presented on occasions of ceremony must be done in strict observance of rank and importance of each. Hence, persons dining or entertaining these dignitaries must first post themselves accurately on the status of every kingdom, province and principality if they expect to give their guests pleasure and to avoid a scene such as has characterized occasions where "second class South America" has occupied positions a few paces above "first class Europe," or where little European provinces have been given more conspicuous places than greater kingdoms.—American Magazine.

A Sample of Western Driving.

Gen. Sheridan has often visited Omaha, and his face is familiar to many of our citizens, in whose hearts he holds a warm place. Of all his visits to Omaha none is more memorable than that in January, 1872, when he and his staff came here to meet the Grand Duke Alexis of Russia and suite and to go with them on a grand hunt in the western part of the state, which was then thickly "populated" with buffaloes.

The buffalo hunt, which was conducted under the direction of Gen. Sheridan, was a very successful affair. The details were executed by Buffalo Bill, who was a great favorite with Sheridan. During the hunt a grand war dance was given by Spotted Tail and his Indians, 1,400 in all, who had been brought down from their agency by Buffalo Bill to entertain the visitors. On the return from the hunt the grand duke and Gen. Sheridan took seats in a double seated open carriage drawn by four splendid cavalry horses, which were not much used to the harness. The driver was Bill Reed, an overland stage driver. On the way in the grand duke frequently expressed his admiration of the skillful manner in which Reed handled the reins. Sheridan informed him that Buffalo Bill had also been a stage driver in the Rocky mountains, and thereupon his highness expressed a desire to see him drive. Buffalo Bill was in advance, and Sheridan shouted out to him: "Cody, get in here and show the duke how you can drive. Mr. Reed will change places with you and ride your horse." "All right, general," responded Cody, and in a few moments he had the reins and the horses were dancing over the prairie.

When they were approaching Medicine creek, Sheridan said: "Shake 'em up a little, Bill, and give us some old time stage driving." Bill gave the horses a crack or two of the whip and the struck an unusually rapid gait. They had a light load to pull and kept increasing their speed at every jump. Bill found it difficult to hold them. They fairly flew over the ground. At last they reached a steep hill or divide, which led down into the valley of the Medicine. There was no brake on the wagon, and the horses were not much on the hold back. Bill saw that it would be impossible to stop them. All he could do was to keep them straight in the track and let them go it down the hill for three miles, which distance was made, it is claimed, in about six minutes. Every once in a while the wheels would strike a rut and take a bound and not touch the ground again for fifteen or twenty feet. The duke and the general were kept rather busy in holding their positions on the seats, but when they saw that Bill was keeping the horses straight in the road they seemed to enjoy the dash. Bill was unable to stop the horses until they ran into the camp where they were to obtain a fresh relay. The grand duke said he didn't want any more of that kind of driving, as he preferred to go a little slower. Gen. Sheridan laughed and said "That is nothing unusual in this western country. We do everything out here with a grand rush."—Omaha Herald.

Loads Carried by Voyageurs.

In 1844 I traveled by birch bark canoe something like a thousand miles, from Lapoint over to the head waters of the Mississippi, and down the latter to Fort Snelling, at mouth of Minnesota river. We made several portages, the longest being nine miles. We had along two trunks, and provisions and bedding for four persons for one month. The load which our two voyageurs carried was certainly 150 to 200 pounds each. They made seven miles in one day, going over the ground five times—i. e., thirty-five miles. Three-fifths of the distance they were loaded, and two-fifths going back for another load. Their plan was to take the heaviest load first (about 200 pounds), and carry it about a mile or a mile and a half, put it down, go back for another load of 150 pounds, carry this a mile or a mile and a half beyond the first deposit, then come back, take up the first deposit and carry it the same distance beyond, etc., until all was carried to the camp for the night; then, last of all, they went back seven miles to the last camp, took up the boat (which was the lightest load of all), and carried it to camp.

I will give an account of one load. They used a leather strap about two inches and a half wide in middle, and slenderer toward the end, and perhaps ten or twelve feet long. One fellow, a famous voyageur, would tie this about my trunk (about seventy-five pounds) in two places near each end, and throw it over the head, bringing the hand across the forehead, the trunk resting on the back, then take a hundred pounds of flour and put on the trunk, and then twenty-five pounds of crackers on top of all, and walk off briskly, almost in a trot. The man was not a large or very muscular man, but rather lean and wiry.—Professor Joseph Le Conte in Science.

Honest Little Cash Registers.

Cash registers, so called, are by no means a new thing, but the latest style of register is a perfect marvel. It registers the amount of the purchase, indicates the amount to the clerk or cashier as well as to the customer; opens the drawer ready for making the change, rings a bell to give the alarm and adds the amount registered to the amount of all former registrations. All this is accomplished by a single depression of one key. This little machine is perfectly honest and makes no mistakes. It detects carelessness whether it is on the part of the employers or employes. When the day's work is done the machine has all the cash added up, so that it can be seen at a glance what amount of money should be found in the drawer. Or if at noon, or at any other time in the day, the proprietor wishes to find out how much business has been done, it is not a minute's work to find out with the machine, which is provided with a secret lock, to prevent the possibility of any one altering the figures or tampering with the mechanism.

The machine can be ready for a day's work and set for another day's work in less than two minutes. The clerk may lock his machine so that no person can tamper with it and so that the clerk himself cannot interfere with the registering mechanism. The proprietor, if he chooses, may, in a moment, set the mechanism so that no registration can be made without opening the [illegible] time.—New York Mail and [illegible]

California's Redwood Forests.

The magnificent redwoods which extend along the coast ranges, from Monterey bay to Siskiyou, constitute of course the chief timber resources of the state. It is from these forests that the major part of the lumber used in the state since the American occupation has been obtained. The drain on these forests has necessarily been enormous. In those redwood forests adjacent to San Francisco bay, and lying in the counties of San Mateo, Santa Cruz, Marin, Sonoma, Napa and Alameda, most of the merchantable timber in the original growth has been removed long ago. Fortunately the denudation of these forests has not produced a scene of utter desolation, such as is sometimes pictured in the mind as following in the wake of the lumberman's ax. In the greater portion of these worked over forests, where the stumps have not been removed to make way for fruit tree or vine, the great vitality of the redwood has asserted itself, and a dense growth of saplings has sprung from the mutilated butts and are rapidly approaching a merchantable condition.

The same phenomenon of nature restoring the redwood forests is witnessed in such parts of Mendocino and Humboldt counties as the lumberman has already culled. An interesting illustration of the renewal of these magnificent forest trees is presented in the canyons on the east side of the Contra Costa and Alameda county range, within a few miles of this city, and along the forest clad slopes of Mount Tamalpais, and the ranges of Sonoma and Napa counties. The redwood forests on the range east of St. Helena, in the latter county, supplied all the ties used in the construction of the Napa Valley railway, and the new growth has been drawn upon for years past for posts and stakes for the vineyards and orchards that are taking the place of the forests.—San Francisco Bulletin.

For Freckles and Sunburn.

Washing the face with acid buttermilk is a country cosmetic, still in favor for sunburn, freckles and scaly skin. The juice pressed from cucumbers is altogether preferable, and, though of old repute, is a fashionable London preparation. The juice of milkweed also is a proprietary lotion for the face, sold by modish cosmetic artists abroad. These vegetable lotions being gummy, protecting and detersive, refine the skin, and, unlike spirituous washes, do not bring out the hair on the cheeks. A seraglio secret to take away wrinkles is to heat an iron shovel red hot, throw on it a spoonful of myrrh in powder, and smoke the face over it, covering person and shovel with a sheet to keep in the fumes. Repeat this three times, heat the shovel again, and pour on it two spoonfuls of white wine, steaming the face with it three times. This rite is to be repeated night and morning until the effect is gained.

Plantain water is very softening for the face. But vaseline rubbed on the skin of the neck and face every night faithfully will keep wrinkles at a distance for long years beyond their usual appearance. It should be generously applied, left for the skin to absorb a few minutes, and the excess wiped gently off with a soft cloth. As vaseline is twenty-five cents a pound, which lasts a year, this is the cheapest as well as the safest cosmetic. This should always be applied before going into the hot sun, for long walks or rides, as well as domestic work in heated rooms. The skin must always be washed clean with warm water and fine soap, and well dried before using any application, and man or woman always wants to go to bed with face and neck thoroughly and freshly washed. Sleeping with the imperceptive dust of the day in the skin, clogging and grimming, it is a great cause of wrinkles.—Shirley Dare's Letter.

Waiting to Be Eaten.

Of the natives of New Georgia or Rubiana, Capt. Cheyne avers that human flesh forms their chief article of diet. The doctor observes: "It is difficult to speculate on the reflections of the victim, as he lives from day to day in constant expectation of his fate." There is reason to believe that this expectation does not produce the agonizing terror which most Europeans under the circumstances would experience. In the time not very far distant, when cannibalism prevailed in New Zealand, it was occasionally, at all events, the custom of a chief when starting on a war expedition to take with him, fastened together, a number of men whom he already held as captives; these men served as a living larder. Each of them knew that his turn to be killed and eaten would come; nevertheless with the certainty of this doom before him he partook of each of his fellows whose death preceded his own; and Capt. Wilkes, in his account of his exploring expedition, stated that King Thekambeau appropriated one of the small islands of the Fiji group as a human preserve. Every man imprisoned there knew that he would ultimately serve as a food for his majesty, and such alike were the loyalty and indifference as to death of these victims that, when questioned by Capt. Wilkes as to their feelings on the matter, they expressed a kind of acquiescence in their fate, and used words to the effect that it was quite proper that the king should be thus provided for.—Westminister Review.

Warning Against Self Consciousness.

Self consciousness is probably the greatest enemy to beauty, either of person or manner, and it is curious it is a vice (for one really wants to call it that) that American women are mostly affected by. In them self consciousness usually arises from a very great desire to please, which, while commendable, is often just as nerve exciting as it is to the one concerned. An English woman in her perfect certainty that everything is right, that whatever she does is good form, gains the quiet of an Alderney cow. Now, what the American woman wants to do is to reach the entire lack of self consciousness possessed by a well bred French woman, to gain some of the repose of the English woman, and yet to retain her own special and absolutely indescribable charm. I have seen this among the young Quakeresses, but except among them and in families [illegible] great care was given to [illegible] case is seldom seen.—Philadelphia Times.

DEATH OF CHAS. CROCKER.

THE death of Chas. Crocker, at Monterey, last Tuesday, is a great loss to California. To him and his conferees of the Southern Pacific Company is due in a great measure the remarkable growth and development of the State of California. He has builded railroads, constructed great canals and reservoirs which has redeemed thousands of acres of arable lands from a desert waste he has erected magnificent buildings in almost every part of the State, he has developed coal mines and contributed large sums of money to charitable institutions, and his many quiet acts of charity and kindness would fill a large sized volume. In his death thousands of Californians have lost an influential and generous friend and the State one of its most enterprising and public-spirited men.

THE MISCHIEF-MAKER ABROAD.

ON several occasions reports have been circulated in this town by underhanded mischief-makers that the editor of this paper has "brought out" this candidate or that candidate for office. These lies are put in circulation for no other purpose than to make it appear that we were "trying to run the town." To many who do not take the trouble to inquire into such matters we will state that all such reports are untrue, and ridiculous in the extreme. We are not in politics at the present time, except in so far as we claim to enjoy those rights accorded to every free American citizen. Have no axe to grind of our own or for anybody else. Do not belong to any ring, clique or clan. We are simply engaged in running a newspaper, and all our energies are exerted toward giving to the people of town and valley a paper devoted to the development of the resources of the Sonoma Valley, the improvement of the town, a betterment of the general condition of things and the dissemination of local news.

THE Board of Supervisors of Merced county last week voted $1000 out of the County Treasury to be given to the local Board of Trade for the purpose of defraying the expenses of holding a Fair and otherwise advertising the county. In their endeavors to secure this sum the Board of Trade were ably assisted by the four local papers of that town. But not content with Press favors already asked and granted its members very niggardly schemed to get about $50 or $60 worth of advertisin out of each of these four local papers for no thing. This apparently was an easy matter, as there is considerable rivalry among the newspapers of Merced, and we are sorry to say that our cotemporaries of the Fountain City were easily roped in, and are now running big ads gratuitously for the Fair to be held in that town next month. For our part we would see the Merced Board of Trade in—well, well, the place where there is no water—before being wheedled and cajoled into doing their printing for nothing, particularly when the Supervisors had voted them money which as tax-payers each of these publishers had contributed their share to pay just such bills with.

Children

Often need some safe cathartic and tonic to avert approaching sickness or to relieve colic, headache, sick stomach, indigestion, dysentery and the complaints incident to childhood. Let the children take Simmons Liver Regulator and keep well. It is purely vegetable, not unpleasant to the taste and safe to take alone or in connection with other medicine.

The "Democrat" says: There is at this time in Santa Rosa a very remarkable family. It consists of a father, two sons, one daughter and one grandson, one son-in-law, three mothers with their three children, two mothers-in-law and two grandmothers. Also a brother, sister, [illegible] uncle, and six individuals [illegible] household.

PLANT TOKAY GRAPES.

IT has long been known that the Sonoma Valley is peculiarly adapted to the culture of Tokay grapes. This fact was practically demonstrated at the last Mechanics' Fair, where the valley received the first premium for these grapes. At the prices ruling this season, and there is no reason why these prices should ever be less, vineyards of Tokay grapes in full bearing in this valley are yielding a net income of from $100 to $300 per acre. The market for these excellent table grapes is almost limitless and the area where they can be successfully grown for Eastern shipment comparatively small. There is a strong and growing demand for the Tokay grape in the Eastern States and the demand far exceeds the supply.

There must be at least 5,000 uncultivated acres in this valley peculiarly suited to their culture. Suppose, by way of illustration, this land was all in bearing Tokay vineyards, as it ought to be five years from now, a net yield of $100 per acre would bring into our valley the enormous sum of $500,000 a year. The transformation which this would bring about would be simply wonderful.

The principal product of Sonoma Valley at the present time is wine grapes, but the wine market is controlled by a ring of grasping middlemen, who have forced prices down so low that the industry has almost ceased to be one of profit. As between these middlemen and the phylloxera it is about time our farmers were casting about for something to grow that will make them independent of the one and free from the ravages of the other. It has been clearly demonstrated right here in this valley that the Tokay vine is impervious to the attack of the phylloxera, and there are blocks of Tokays growing in vineyards in this vicinity that are as strong and healthy to-day as they were fifteen or twenty years ago, while other varieties of grapes such as the Mission, Zinfandel, Malvoisie, etc., have succumbed to that most destructive of vineyard pests.

If the large land-owners of Sonoma Valley would break up their farms into smaller places and the owners of smaller places improve them by setting out the Tokay grape for the Eastern market there is no reason why in five years from now we should not have every acre of available land yielding its owner $100 or over an acre and a half million of dollars coming into the valley annually from these grapes alone.

A Choice Investme

The Mexican Land and Development Company of No. 57 Broadway, New York, have acquired a grant of public land in the state of Tamaulipas, Mexico, covering several million acres. It covers the most fertile section of land on the Continent, with a soil so rich and a climate so perfect that three crops of some cereals are produced in one year. Its forests are almost impassable with the growth of rare and valuable woods. The standing timber alone more than warrants the capitalization of the company controlling the grant, yet in value it represents but a fraction of the millions of acres inexhaustible in fertility and productiveness. A limited amount of the Company's stock is offered for sale at $5 per share. With each share is given a certificate which entitles the holder to five acres of land free. See advertisement elsewhere.

BROWNWOOD, GA.

The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Gentlemen—This past summer my wife was away on a two months' visit. On her return home she had a wretched cold, which, growing worse, caused me to call in a physician. He attended her several weeks without benefiting her. She, knowing the splendid effect S. S. S. had on me, determined to test it in her case. At that time she had copious and disagreeable discharges from the left nostril. Before the first bottle of S. S. S. was used up she was much better, and a few additional bottles set her all right.

It is remarkable that S. S. S. is good for colds and sore throats. A few months ago, I was troubled occassionally with my throat from preaching. I carried a bottle of Swift's Specific with me on the circuit. Whenever my throat became irritated and annoyed me I would take a dose of S. S. S. just before retiring, and on awakening I would be well. REV. JOSEPH G. LANGSTON.

J. F. Clark of Mark West Creek was thrown from a wagon in Santa Rosa, last Saturday, and falling on his head had his skull laid bare for a width of two inches from the center of the forehead to the back of his head. The wound is considered very serious.

An Explanation

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, alaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous.

A WOMAN'S WAY.

A Startling Business Proposition.

A little over six weeks ago Mrs. Fowler of 327 Ellis street, San Francisco, stopped in at a leading city druggist's to ask what effect Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, about which she had heard so much recently, would have in cases of dyspepsia and sick headache. She was assured that in most cases it would relieve both. She was, however, so incredulous that finally the druggist gave her a bottle, not to be paid for unless it effected a cure. A proposition so startlingly practical has seldom, if ever before, been made. The following just received is the convincing conclusion, and tells its own story:

San Francisco, February 6, 1888.

DEAR SIR:—I write to admit that, notwithstanding my misgivings, Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla did all that you promised. I had tried so many prescriptions, to no purpose, that I had come to believe nothing would relieve my dyspepsia and sick headaches, but I have not had a return of either since I commenced taking it. I believe I am permanently cured, but will, out of an abundance of caution, continue to take it regularly for a while yet. You have my permission to make this public, for it is my belief that a remedy that will cure dyspepsia and prevent sick headaches should be generally known. Respectfully,

Mrs. M. Fowler.
327 Ellis street.

A LUCKY TRIAL.

DEAR SIR:—It affords me great pleasure to send you this voluntary statement of my experience in testing the merits of Joy's Sarsaparilla. For the past five years I have been troubled with an exceedingly sluggish liver, and within the past two years it has brought within its trail a thoroughly disordered stomach, including loss of appetite and distress after eating, pains in the back and kidneys, and boils around my neck and face. I have tried several remedies which are advertised as specially for the liver, and never could get more than temporary relief of about a week or two. I was recommended to try a bottle of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla as a test, and while taking the first bottle I became convinced of its merits for I could feel it was working a change in me. I have taken five bottles, and during that time my troubles have left me. Everything is working full and regular, in fact it has cleansed, purified and braced me up generally. I feel like a new man. You are at perfect liberty to use this as you see fit, or you can refer whom you please to

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. A Boston lady, whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I had taken Hood's Sarsaparilla, knew what it was, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other. When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly

Under the head of "Political Cards" appears to-day the announcement of Robt. Howe, the Regular Democratic Nominee for Assemblyman from this the Twenty-fifth Assembly District. Mr. Howe is one of the most popular men in his district, a prominent citizen of this valley and a gentleman who has already had a great deal of Legislative experience, having been a member of both the Upper and Lower House of the California Legislature years ago.

At the recent County Democratic Convention held in Santa Rosa, Messrs. John Tivnen, Capt. P. N. Stofen and Robt. Howe were honored with positions on the ticket. These gentlemen are residents of Sonoma Valley, and are representative men in every sense of the word. Mr. Tivnen has filled the office of Coroner and Public Administrator for two years in an honest and efficient manner, and is the strongest man the Democrats could have put up for the office.

The Prohibitionists.

The Prohibitionists of this county met in convention in Santa Rosa on the 10th inst., and nominated the following ticket: Sheriff, P. H. Long, Petaluma; County Clerk, A. Hendrickson; Treasurer, H. A. Mageon; Recorder and Auditor, Geo. Dow, Healdsburg; Surveyor, J. W. Bagley, Guerneville; Coroner, John Philips, Bloomfield; Supervisors—J. McClelland, Third District; J. W. Ricketts, Guerneville, Fifth District; Assemblymen—J. Robinson, Guernville; Twenty-third District; Rev. L. Ewing, Sebastopol, Twenty-fourth District; H. H. Jordan, Petaluma, Twenty-fifth District. The vacancies on the ticket were left to the discretion of the County Central Committee.

A Relic of the Boom.

The Verano Land Company has advertised as delinquent 1343 shares of the stock of that company, belonging to the following: H. D. Bacon, 441 shares, $2,645; F. P. Bacan, 147 shares, $882; Geo. H. Maxwell, 367½ shares, $2,205; I. C. Stump, 367½ shares, $2,205. If the above sums are not paid in on or before the 30th day of this month the shares will be sold to pay the assessment of $5 per share levied last June.

The Vile Slanderer.

An exchange says: "The kind of a liar who is really the most dangerous enemy of society; the one who commits the greatest crime against it, and the one who suffers least for it, is the base, vile slanderer. The liar who would go behind an honest man or a virtuous woman and traduce his or her character until it was blacked with the flame of slanderous malice and no longer in correspondence with the exalted requirement of society, might as well commit a capital crime against the one or the other. We may look for the infuriated wild beast of the pampas to attack us from the front, we may be cautious of the rear department of a mule, but the slanderer and villifier of human character attacks one from every and all directions."

How much heartache, misery, and ill-feeling might be spared by placing a guard over the tongue. That little organ when backed by a willingness on the part of its possessor, is capable of creating more mischief than can be compensated for, in years of repentance. The Creator gave us the power of speech that it might be used in promotion of good, not of evil. It was never intended that the organs of speech were to be continually used in the discussion of your neighbor's affairs and in destroying his peace and quiet of mind by spying out his faults and proclaiming them to the world; his failings will be seen soon enough without your assistance. If you have nothing good to say, say nothing.

School Apportionment.

The Superintendent of Schools has just completed the apportionment of the State School Fund for August. The total apportionment aggregates $13,011, leaving a balance in the unapportioned fund of $175 63.—Democrat.

A Case for the Coroner.

So we go, one after another. This was one who had with his own hand taken the life God gave him. It was evidently not a case of destitution, for there was enough coin found on his clothing to suffice for several day's necessities. An acquaintance testified at the inquest that he had been complaining several days of dyspepsia. Had he taken a few doses of Frese's Hamburg Tea—a specific for ordinary cases of that class—he might now be enjoying life and health with his fellow men.

THE DEMOCRATS.

They Hold Their Convention and Nominate a County Ticket.

The Democratic County Convention met in Santa Rosa last Tuesday to nominate a county ticket. Hon. Robt. Howe of this place presided over the Convention, which is described as being one of the most harmonious and good-natured bodies ever congregated in this county.

After a brief congratulatory speech by Chairman Howe the Convention got down to business. The list of townships were called and nearly every delegate responded to his name.

The Committee on Resolutions reported as follows:

The Democratic party in convention assembled, reaffirms its faith to the principles of Democracy as laid down by the fathers of the Republic, and pledges anew the party for the people as against all forms of centralized government.

It congratulates the people upon a return to economical methods of government under the administration of Grover Cleveland.

Resolved, That the Democracy endorse the policy of the President in his efforts to restore the public domains to the people in calling the aided railroads to an accounting with the Government, in relieving the people of unjust war taxes and the exactions of trust monopolies, in the disposition of the Chinese question by treaty, and in his zealous, wise and conservative course in dealing with all matters pertaining to the interests of the country.

Resolved, That we endorse and commend the policy of the Democratic leaders in the halls of Congress and more especially the zeal, activity and energy displayed in the discharge of his duty by the member from this district, the Hon. T. L. Thompson.

Resolved, That in the death of Governor Washington Bartlett, the Democracy has lost a true and tried friend of the people.

The chairman then announced that the District Conventions would meet to nominate Assemblymen and Supervisors, after which the convention adjourned to meet at 1:30 P. M.

On the convention being called to order in the afternoon the order of business as reported by the committee was adopted.

The collections from delegates to defray expenses were then completed and each candidate was, on motion, assessed ten dollars.

Mr. Rogers of Petaluma named Thos. Rutledge for Judge and, on motion, he was nominated by acclamation.

J. S. Taylor, Wm. Pearman and H. W. Smith were named for Sheriff and a vote being taken Mr. Taylor received 71 votes, and was declared the nominee.

L. W. Julliard and J. D. Connolly were named for County Clerk, and the roll being called Mr. Julliard received 54 votes to 47 for Mr. Connolly.

The names of George Pierce and John Goss were presented as candidates for District Attorney, the former being chosen.

P. N. Stofen and Matt Aiken were named for County Treasurer, Mr. Stofen being selected.

A. Moore was nominated for Recorder and Auditor by acclamation.

Preston Davis was nominated by acclamation for Surveyor, and John Tivnen for Coroner and Administrator, after which the convention adjourned amid great enthusiasm.

DISTRICT NOMINATIONS.

Robt. Howe of Sonoma was nominated unanimously for Assemblyman from the Twenty-fifth District.

Dennis Long of Vallejo Township received the nomination for Roadmaster.

F. B. Mulgrew of Healdsburg was nominated for the Assembly from the Twenty-third District.

Frank Smith was nominated for Supervisor in the Fifth District.

John Goss of Santa Rosa received the nomination for Assemblyman from the Twenty fourth District.

The selection of a Supervisor for Sonoma and Vallejo Townships (District No. 1,) was postponed to a future date.

The ticket as a whole is entirely satisfactory to Democrats all over the county, who consider it a very strong one.

The Charms of an Editor's Life.

One of the beauties and charms of an editor's life is in his dead-heading it on all occasions. No one who has never tasted the sweets of that bliss, can begin to take in his glory and happiness. He does $100 worth of advertising for a railroad company, gets a "pass" for a year, rides $25; and then he is looked upon as a dead-head, or a half blown dead-beat. He "puffs" a concert troupe $10 worth, and gets $1 in complimentaries," and is thus passed "free." If the hall is crowded he is begrudged the room he occupies, for if his complimentaries were paying tickets the troupe would be so much in pocket. He blows and puffs a church festival free to any desired extent, and does the poster printing at half rates, and merely gets a "thank you," for it. It goes as part of his duty as an editor. He does more work gratuituously for the town and community at large than all the rest of the population put together, and gets curses for it all, while in many instances where a man devotes a few dollars for the fourth of July, a base ball club or a church, he is gratefully remembered. He passes "free," you know.—Utica Observer.

The Burris Estate.

Mrs. Elizabeth Burris has petitioned for letters of administration on the estate of her deceased husband, Wm. Burris. The petition, which has been filed in Department One of the Superior Court, states the value of the property belonging to the estate is $22,460. The deceased died intestate and the heirs at law are Mrs. Burris, the widow, Jesse Burris, L. W. Burris and D. Burris, sons of the deceased.

ADMISSION DAY.

The Governor Issues a Proclamation Declaring it a Legal Holiday.

Governor Waterman has issued the following proclamation:

To all to whom these presents come greeting: By virtue of the authority in me vested by the Constitution and laws of this State, I hereby appoint September 9th, 1888, as a legal holiday, for the purpose of giving the people an opportunity to properly celebrate the admission of California into the Union, in accordance with their expressed desire that the day should thus be recognized. As the ninth of September this year falls on Sunday, the day following, Monday, September 10, 1888, will be the one to be appropriately observed.

In thus making the day a holiday, it will not be inappropriate for me to say that of all of the days in the year not one should be dearer to the heart of every inhabitant of California than that which marked her admission into the sisterhood of States.

Business pursuits, the strife for place and power, the struggle in the battle of life for promotion, supremacy and fortune, should not entirely obliterate the sentiment of State pride and affection, for in my judgment the highest sentiment that a community can express is gratitude for those endowments which contribute to happiness, contentment, and prosperity, and gives those interested an enviable position before the people of the world.

This holiday, which, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution I am empowered to appoint, is entirely in consonance with my own views. I believe, and fully so, in thus commemorating the most marked era in the history of the State, giving us, as it did, the grandest and proudest heritage that ever fell to the lot of man, laying the foundation of a structure which, as the years are numbered, approaches a condition that will eventuate in building up an Empire on this western confine of our beloved country that will be as a cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night, giving token of our fealty, loyalty, and devotion, as a people, to America, her flag, her institutions, and her destiny.

The request to make this day a holiday, and for the purpose indicated, came with force and an earnest and patriotic feeling from the "Native Sons of the Golden West," an organization peculiarly Californian in its nature and tendencies, and being so generally and generously sustained by all classes of our citizens, becomes doubly enhanced to the members thereof, as well as myself.

I might close this paper without anything further than these necessary details that contribute to give it force and vitality, but in connection I may be pardoned for adding a few words in obedience to a commendable State pride that actuates me at this time. Other States have their natal days which doubtless are appropriately recognized, but in my humble opinion no other State in the Union is more justified in expressing pride and gratification in what she has already done; rejoicing with exceeding gladness in her present, and looking forward to a glorious realization in her future, than California.

No people on the face of the earth are more susceptible of self-government than those of California. There are none more liberty-loving, loyal, or patriotic. Ours is a State that is thoroughly and completely self-sustaining. There is not a foot of land within her borders that cannot be utilized for the benefit of the people. Her educational facilities are peerless. Her press, her judiciary, her schools, her pulpits, her artisans and mechanics, and her business men, are an honor, in either of the capacites under which they have enlisted and to which reference is made in this.

In no other State in the Union is labor more dignified, or honored, or compensated, than in California; for to-day the authenticated returns go to prove that there is on deposit in the Savings Banks upwards of $80,000,000 00. This vast sum is the property of the working and laboring classes, and does not come in competition or comparison with those whose business interests induce them to seek the accommodation of commercial banks. In no other State in the Union are there more homesteads paid for by the efforts of honest labor than in California, where the one who has worked at the bench, dug in the trenches of advancing progress, assisted to rear the magnificent buildings which beautify and adorn the State, or engaged in whatever manual or physical labor that has distinguished the day's calling, can, after his task is ended, wend his way to his own home, and rest himself for the recurring day of work and labor under his own "vine and fig tree."

And so I might go on and enumerate countless reasons for the course to be pursued in the matter which calls this into requisition, but I will conclude by saying that her escutcheon is without speck or blemish, and the child born upon her soil is endowed with a priceless legacy in birthplace. Therefore it is right and proper that we should celebrate the day which gave California birth, and with such appropriate and impressive ceremonies as will live forever in the memory of those participating. And no official act of mine, since exercising the power vested in me, has afforded me more heartfelt pleasure and satisfaction than the issuance of this proclamation.

In witness wereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the State to be hereto affixed, this the tenth day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.

Helping the Right Side.

To help the right side is not only commendable in a general point of view, but is judicious and prudent when that help is enlisted in behalf of the right side of the body, just over the lower ribs in the region of the liver. The most efficient help is afforded by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an anti-bilious medicine of incomparable efficacy. Inaction of the liver is accompanied by constipation, sick-headache, furred tongue, nausea, occasional vertigo, an unpleasant breath, yellowness of the skin and ball of the eye. The author of these symptoms, liver complaint, routed by the Bitters is accompanied by them in its flight. Fever and ague, which always involves the liver, dyspepsia, rheumatism, debility and kidney troubles are all maladies to the early relief and final cure of which this standard remedicine is adapted. Don't use it by fits and starts, but systematically, that its full effects may result in a perfect restoration of health.

WHAT MAKES THE SUMMER?

It is not the lark's clear tone
Cleaving the morning air with a soaring cry,
Nor the nightingale's dulcet melody all the balmy night—
Not these alone
Make the sweet sounds of summer;
But the drone of beetle and bee, the murmurous hum of the fly
And the chirp of the cricket hidden out of sight—
These help to make the summer.

Not roses redly blown,
Nor golden lilies, lighting the dusky mead,
Nor proud, imperial pansies, nor queen cups quaint and rare—
Not these alone
Make the sweet sights of summer;
But the countless forest leaves, the myriad wayside weeds
And slender grasses, springing up everywhere—
These help to make the summer.

One heaven bends above;
The lowliest head ofttimes hath sweetest rest;
O'er song bird in the pine, and bee in the ivy low,
Is the same love, it is all God's summer;
Well pleased is He if we patiently do our best.
So hum, little bee, and low green grasses grow,
You help to make summer.

Cowbells Worn on Broadway.

An eccentricity of toilet seen in Broadway, and heard, too, consists of cowbells worn by fashionable women. These curious adjuncts are shaped like the old fashioned tinkling bells which were suspended to one cow's neck in a herd, so that the beasts could be easily found when they strayed away in the woods, but they are smaller, being only about three inches long. The metal is brass, with embellished surfaces, although in extreme cases of extravagance gold may be used. They dangle at the ends of chains from the wearer's belt, and the clappers tinkle against the inner sides with more or less noise according to the gait of the girl. If she treads hard and fast, there is considerable ringing, but if she be an easy stepper the sound is only an occasional clink, something like that of the brass heels once worn on shoes. It is to be hoped that these bells will not "ring out the old" notions of modesty, or "ring in the new" ones of audacity; but there probably is no danger of the style getting into vogue with other than those who desire to force attention to themselves.—New York Sun.

The Baby in Arabia.

On the fortieth day the baby's head is shaved—a ceremony which could scarcely be performed in our own country, where thick hair is usually of a later growth. This operation is considered a very important one, and thirty or forty persons are witnesses to it, for the performance of certain rites.

The disposal of the first hair is regarded as a very weighty matter; it must not be burned nor carelessly thrown away, but buried, thrown into the sea, or hidden in some crevice of a wall.

This fortieth day marks a turning point in the child's life. Heretofore it has only been seen by its parents, the slaves on duty and a few intimate friends of the family; now, however, it may be seen by anybody, and is regarded as fairly launched on the tide of existence.—"Memoirs of an Arabian Princess."

Blacking Boots by Wholesale.

Two colored boys who live on the west side and have long had a boot blacking stand on Sixth avenue, have a new system of soliciting business, by which they hope eventually to monopolize the entire trade of the neighborhood. They have had a circular printed in which they announce that they will call at all private dwellings for business. This circular has been sent to every house for a mile around. They call at the houses for customers every morning and take away the boots and return them with a "patent leather shine." Already they have several hundred customers, and as the business is improving daily they have hired four assistants to facilitate the work.—New York Mail and Express.

Testing Another Explosive.

British authorities have been testing a new smokeless gunpowder, the composition of which is a secret. Among the claims of its inventor are greater velocity, flatter trajectory, less fouling and less recoil than with ordinary government powder; while it will keep better, is safer to manufacture and to handle, and is lighter than the common powder. It is known as the Johnson-Barlend powder, and the experiments made are said to have fully justified several of these claims.—Arkansaw Traveler.

The Canoes of Alaska.

The Indian canoes are very neatly made, the ribs being whittled from thin strips of birch, with gunwales of the same material, to which the bark is bound with very fine strips of dried roots, which resemble bamboo split in two, and is very strong. The seams where the bark is bound on to the ribs are made water tight with heated pitch gathered from trees. When it becomes cold it makes these little crafts thoroughly water tight.—Juneau Free Press.

A fire at Fulton Monday morning destroyed a dwelling-house, wine-cellar and 35,000 gallons of Zinfandel wine, the property W. Chrisholm of Petaluma. The loss is estimated at $13,000. The fire originated in an outhouse and is supposed to have started from a lighted match or cigar being carelessly thrown down.

A Sound Legal Opinion.

E. Bainbridge Munday Esq., County Atty., Clay Co., Tex. says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malaria Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life." Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: He positively believes he would have died, had it not been for Electric Bitters. This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure all Malaria Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders stands unequaled. Price 50c. and $1 at E. Wegner's Drug Store.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems at first only a cold. Because he makes more profit he may tell you he has something just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all Throat, Lung and Chest affections. Trial bottles free at E. Wegner's Drug Store. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
The Original
LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

PURELY VEGETABLE! PERFECTLY HARMLESS!
Unequaled as a LIVER PILL. Does not gripe. ONE PELLET A DOSE.
SMALLEST, CHEAPEST, EASIEST TO TAKE.

Beware of Imitations, containing Poisonous Minerals. Always ask for Dr. Pierce's Pellets, which are little Sugar-coated Pills, or Anti-bilious Granules.

Being Purely Vegetable, Dr. Pierce's Pellets operate without disturbance to the system, diet, or occupation. Put up in glass vials, hermetically sealed. Always fresh and reliable. They are a gentle laxative, or an active purgative, according to size of dose.

SICK HEADACHE,

Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the stomach and bowels, are promptly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may truthfully be said that their action upon the system is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative influence. Sold by druggists, for 25 cents a vial. Manufactured at the Chemical Laboratory of WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, No. 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

$500 REWARD

is offered by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of Catarrh in the Head which they cannot cure.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak and watery; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice is changed and has a "nasal twang"; the breath is offensive; smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility. Only a few of the above-named symptoms are likely to be present in any one case. Thousands of cases, annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood by physicians.

By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of Catarrh, "Cold in the Head," Coryza, and Catarrhal Headache.

Sold by druggists everywhere; 50 cents.

"Untold Agony from Catarrh."

Prof. W. HAUSNER, the famous mesmerist, of Ithaca, N. Y., writes: "Some ten years ago I suffered untold agony from chronic nasal catarrh. My family physician gave me up as incurable, and said I must die. My case was such a bad one, that every day, towards sunset, my voice would become so hoarse I could barely speak above a whisper. In the morning my coughing and clearing of my throat would almost strangle me. By the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, in three months, I was a well man, and the cure has been permanent."

"Constantly Hawking and Spitting."

THOMAS J. RUSHING, Esq., 2903 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh for three years. At times I could hardly breathe, and was constantly hawking and spitting, and for the last eight months could not breathe through the nostrils. I thought nothing could be done for me. Luckily, I was advised to try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I am now a well man. I believe it to be the only sure remedy for catarrh now manufactured, and one has only to give it a fair trial to experience astounding results and a permanent cure."

A complete Treatise on Catarrh, giving valuable hints as to clothing, diet, and other matters of importance, will be mailed, postpaid to any address, on receipt of a two-cent postage stamp. Address,
